111th M.I. Brigade celebrates military intelligence heritage

By Tanja M. Linton Media Relations Officer

The 111th Military Intelligence Brigade together with USPA&IRA, Runner's World, MVP Awards and the Military Intelligence Corps Association highlight the post's rich legacy with the second Military Intelligence Heritage Run. The race will take place Saturday starting on Brown Parade Field and winds through the historic section of Fort Huachuca.

"The run is meant to foster competition, observe Fort Huachuca's military intelligence historic areas and provide a fun event for all family member to participate in," said Capt. Jason Fischl, commander of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 111th Military Intelligence Brigade.

The event is open to the public and offers a 10K race, a 3K fun run/walk and opportunities for unit competition. The 10K course is USA track and field certified (AZ-99014-FC).

The 10K and team race will begin at 8 a.m., the 3K fun run/walk at 9 a.m., with the awards ceremony scheduled for 10 a.m.

Unit competition teams must be made up of four males and one female. The team must carry a unit guide-on and finish the 10K course together. Registration form and fee applies to each runner.

Statues will be awarded to the top male and female overall winners. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place in each age division. Trophies will also be awarded to the top three teams. Ribbons will be handed out to all 3K participants aged 15 years and under. Finish line refreshments will be provided.

Champion kegler

Justin Salmon, 13, in his first year of competition bowling, advanced to the the Coca Cola Championships in Las Vegas, Nev., where he finished 7th overall in his dividion, winning a 14 lb. Storm Power Bolt bowling ball. He is the first youth bowler from Fort Huachuca to advance to this level of competition.

Salmon places 7th at YABA Coca-Cola Nationals

Desert Lanes release

If you're between the ages of 4 and 21, and would like to learn youth sportsmanship, fundamentals and bowling etiquette, YABA needs you.

YABA, known as Young American Bowling Alliance, is a bowling program designed for Fort Huachuca and Sierra Vista youth ages 4 to 21 years old. The 2000-2001 season kicked off in September, and currently 86 bowlers are participating. YABA is still accepting new bowlers.

Sheryl Benjamin, YABA director, has been running the program with her husband Ernie and Coach Jerry Cooper since 1999. Last season's program started with 12 teams of three bowlers, which nearly doubled 1998's count. Last year's bowlers looked forward to participating in three tournaments — Coca-Cola Tournament, which is the largest tourney and offers the most scholarship money; City Tournament and State Tournament.

To advance to the Coca-Cola Tournament there are two weeks of in house qualifying and two divisions, 12 and under, and 13 to 21. The top four bowlers in the 13 to 21 Division advance to the State Level Coca-Cola in addition to receiving plaques and scholarships.

Last season, two bowlers from the Desert Lanes YABA Program advanced to the State Level Coca-Cola Tournament.

The winner at State advances to the Coca-Cola Championship, with the top bowlers from every state in the United States, including military installations around the world competing. Justin Salmon,13, the son of Dorothy Reese of Fort Huachuca, joined the YABA in September 1999, During the season, although it was Salmon's first year bowling in competition, he advanced to the National level with a 106 average and finished seventh overall in his division. It was the first time any bowler from the Fort Huachuca/Sierra Vista area advanced to this level. Fort Huachuca teams also won trophies, plaques and scholarships during the city and state tournaments.

YABA, at Desert Lanes, now has 20 teams of four bowlers and is still accepting new bowlers. For more information about YABA, call Sheryl Benjamin at 533-2849.

Spend a 'spooky' evening at Sierra Vista's library

City of Sierra Vista release

The Sierra Vista Friends of the Library welcome Jim Kidd today, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the Mona Bishop Room at the Sierra Vista Public Library. Kidd will speak about "Ghosts: what are they?"

Kidd was given his first camera at the age of nine and that is where he began his work as a free-lance photographer. He continued his work with photography throughout his 30-year Naval career, last serving in Vietnam as a combat intelligence photographer.

In 1971, while living on a rice farm in Texas, Kidd and his wife Jeanne began to experience many ghostly events and developed a deep interest in the research of paranormal, or ghostly matters.

Shortly after moving to Tombstone in 1981, he took the first of three photographs which have been authenticated by both Eastman Kodak Labs and Duke University as being of a "ghostly origin."

Don't miss this "spooky" speaking engagement that is free to the public. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call the Sierra Vista Public Library at 458-4225.

Trail riders follow high desert trails to Tombstone, Arizona

Saddle up!

In rememberance of the "Duke" in the Cowboys, riders are told to saddle up, "We're burning daylight." (Above), Maj. Gen. John D. Thomas, Jr., commanding general, USAIC&FH, adjusts the bridle on his mount prior to climbing into the saddle for the day-long ride to Tombstone, Az. (Left), the riders made their way over the winding trail in Arizona's high desert as they approach the San Pedro River bridge in Cochise County. Below, it's chow time for Col. Chuck Atkins and family at the Tombstone Vigilantes hotel and restaurant. All meals were provided by MWR's Premier Caterers.

Move 'em out...

The riders form a line as they enter a narrow trail through the mesquite trees and catus plants near EPG's East Range Antenna Farm. (Right), the riders are nearing the end of the ride just as dusk begins to set.

The history behind the celebration of Halloween

Halloween is an annual celebration, but just what is it actually a celebration of? And how did this peculiar custom originate? Is it, as some claim, a kind of demon worship? Or is it just a harmless vestige of some ancient pagan ritual?

The word itself, "Halloween," actually has its origins in the Catholic Church. It comes from a contracted corruption of All Hallows Eve. All Hallows Day, or All Saint's Day, November 1, is a Catholic day of observance in honor of saints. But, in the 5th century BC, in Celtic Ireland, summer officially ended on October 31. The holiday was called Samhain (sow-en), the Celtic New year. One story says that, on that day, the disembodied spirits of all those who had died throughout the preceding year would come back in search of living bodies to possess for the next year. It was believed to be their only hope for the afterlife, (Panati). The Celts believed all laws of space and time were suspended during this time, allowing the spirit world to intermingle with the living, (Gahagan).

Naturally, the still-living did not want to be possessed. So on the night of October 31, villagers would extinguish the fires in their homes, to make them cold and undesirable. They would then dress up in all manner of ghoulish costumes and noisily paraded around the neighborhood, being as destructive as possible in order to frighten away spirits looking for bodies to possess, (Panati).

Probably a better explanation of why the Celts extinguished their fires was not to discourage spirit possession, but so that all the Celtic tribes could relight their fires from a common source, the Druidic fire that was kept burning in the Middle of Ireland, at Usinach, (Gahagan).

Some accounts tell of how the Celts would burn someone at the stake who was thought to have already been possessed, as sort of a lesson to the spirits, (Panati). Other accounts of Celtic history debunk these stories as myth, (Gahagan).

The Romans adopted the Celtic practices as their own. But in the first century AD, they abandoned any practice of sacrificing of humans in favor of burning effi-

The thrust of the practices also changed over time to become more ritualized. As belief in spirit possession waned, the practice of dressing up like hobgoblins, ghosts, and witches took on a more ceremonial

The custom of Halloween was brought to America in the 1840's by Irish immigrants fleeing their country's potato famine. At that time, the favorite pranks in New England included tipping over outhouses and unhinging fence (Panati).

The custom of trick-or-treating is thought to have originated not with the Irish Celts, but with a ninth-century European custom called souling. On November 2, All Souls Day, early Christians would walk from village to village begging for "soul cakes," made out of square pieces of bread with currants. The more soul cakes the beggars would receive, the more prayers they would promise to say on behalf of the dead relatives of the donors. At the time, it was believed that the dead remained in limbo for a time after death, and that prayer, even by strangers, could expedite a soul's passage to heaven.

The Jack-o-lantern custom probably comes from Irish folklore. As the tale is told, a man named Jack, who was notorious as a drunkard and trickster, tricked Satan into climbing a tree. Jack then carved an image of a cross in the tree's trunk, trapping the devil up the tree. Jack made a deal with the devil that, if he would never tempt him again, he would promise to let him down the tree.

According to the folk tale, after Jack died, he was denied entrance to Heaven because of his evil ways, but he was also denied access to Hell because he had tricked the devil. Instead, the devil gave him a single ember to light his way through the frigid darkness. The ember was placed inside a hollowed-out turnip to keep it glowing longer.

The Irish used turnips as their "Jack's lanterns" originally. But when the immigrants came to America, they found that pumpkins were far more plentiful than turnips. So the Jack-O-Lantern in America was a hollowed-out pumpkin, lit with an

So, although some cults and devil worshippers may have adopted Halloween as their favorite "holiday," the day itself did not grow out of evil practices. It grew out of the rituals of Celts celebrating a new year, and out of Medieval prayer rituals of Europeans. And today, it is only as evil as one cares to make it.

Arizona Game and Fish Department's CENTRAL MOUNTAIN LAKES

RAIN HAS MADE ALL THE ROADS MUDDY - CHECK BEFORE YOU GO!

WILLIAMS LAKES: Fishing regulations have been removed from the following waters: Kaibab Lake, Cataract Lake, City Reservoir, Dogtown Lake and Whitehorse Lake

KAIBAB LAKE - Trout fishing is poor. Try worms. The limits have been removed.

SOUTHERN WATERS

TUCSON URBAN - The urban lakes will be stocked with channel catfish this week. Oxygen levels have returned to normal at Lakeside. Lakeside will also be stocked. Catfishing at all urban lakes has been good. Buy a two-pole stamp and try different baits to double your chances.

RIGGS FLAT -Is stocked with rainbow trout. Fishing has been fair. Was secently stocked with 5,000 fingerling brown trout. Check with the Forest Service, Safford Ranger District, for camping and fire restrictions at (520) 428-4150.

CLUFF RANCH - Slow for warm water species, although some crappie and bass are being caught. For lake information call (520) 485-9430.

ROPER LAKE - Slow for bass, and catfish. For largemouth bass try fishing jigs along the breaks and outside edges of the cattails. Good for sunfish; use worms in shady areas. For lake information call (520) 428-6760.

DANKWORTH POND - Poor for all species. For lake information call (520) 428-6760.

ARIVACA - The oxygen level is not stable and the lake is experiencing some fish kills. Surveys show fair numbers of small bass, but almost no fish exceeding 12 inches. No other fish stockings are planned until the water quality stabilizes. Due to elevated mercury readings in the warm water species, (bass, sunfish and catfish) it is recommended that these fish not be eaten until further notice. Catch and release should be practiced.

PENA BLANCA - Fishing is fair to good for bass, best fishing at night. Recent surveys show a healthy bass population with good numbers of fish in the 15 to 18-inch range. Use artificial worms in rocky areas where the aquatic vegetation is less dense for largemouth bass. The weeds have been cut, so fishing access has improved. Due to elevated mercury readings in the warm water species (bass, sunfish, crappie and catfish), it is recommended that these fish not be eaten until further notice. Catch-and-release should be practiced. For lake information call (520) 281-2296.

PATAGONIA - Fishing is fair to good for warm water species; bass, sunfish and catfish. Best fishing is early morning, late evening and at night. Recent surveys show excellent populations of bass and sunfish. Try artificial crayfish or worms close to the shore at breaks in the cattails. Try worms in shady areas for large bluegill and redear sunfish. Crappie fishing is fair. Channel catfish are biting on worms, hotdogs or stink bait. For lake information call (520) 287-6063.

PARKER CANYON - Is scheduled to be stocked with rainbow trout this week.

Should be very good trout fishing this weekend. Fishing is slow for warm water species (bass, catfish and sunfish). Try artificial worms or night crawlers. Lots of small northern pike in the 12 to 15inch range are being caught. Try flies, corn, worms, and Power Bait. crankbaits and spinner baits. The limit is six northern pike. Anglers are encouraged to try to catch this illegally introduced species. The water level is rising; boat launching is not a problem. For lake information call (520) 455-5847.

PICACHO RESERVOIR - Due to extremely low water conditions Picacho

Reservoir has experienced a fish kill.

ROSE CANYON LAKE - Is stocked with rainbow trout. Fishing is fair. Try Power Bait, corn or cheese. For lake and camping information call (520) 749-8700.

Army Family Team Building (AFTB) provides training for a way of life that prepares everyone in America's Army to function at their highest level, in any situation, with minimal outside support. This training improves personal and family preparedness which enhances overall Army readiness. America's Army includes all soldiers (active duty, reserve component and retired); Department of the Army (DA) civilians; and the family member of all these groups.

AFTB classes are progressive and sequential and are taught by volunteer family members. Regularly scheduled classes are taught in the classroom located in the Murr Community Center. Off-site classes may be scheduled by units and groups desiring specific classes or levels. Level I is composed of 7 modular classes and is designed for the new Army Spouse or anyone interested in updating personal skills or basic knowledge. Classes include Military Terms, Customs & Acronyms and Chain of Command/Chain of Concern. Level II has 19 modules geared toward emerging leaders. Classes include Enhancing Relationship Building, Family Support Groups and Group Dynamics, to name just a few. Level III courses offer training to enhance the professional growth and leadership development opportunities of family members, especially those who might assume advisory and mentoring leadership roles with the community and unit.

Whatever level or class you decide to take is a matter of choice. Some classes do have prerequisites to allow students to build on previous information given, it is a matter of choice where and when you to attend.

Volunteers are always welcome. AFTB offers Instructor Training regularly.

AFTB offices are located in Building 50010 (Army Community Service). For more information please call 533-3686.

"There is No Room for . . . Domestic Violence in the Army Family"

October 2000 is National Domestic Violence Prevention Month. The theme this year is "There is No Room for Domestic Violence in the Army Family." Understanding the cycle of violence plays an important role in its prevention.

The cycle of violence model explains the dynamics of domestic violence by viewing violence as an outcome of a "severe stress reaction. There is a high possibility that the frequency and severity of violence will increase as demands of the relationship increase, and the abuser's expectations of the spouse are not met. The following phases highlight the physical and emotional behaviors that may be experience in the "cycle of violence."

Tension Building (Escalation)

- As the demands increase, tension between the couple builds and something happens that triggers the violence. Usually it is the every day occurrence such as disagreements, "putdowns," use of alcohol, and/or manipulating behaviors.
- Generally, the first response is usually to deny that any problem exists or to minimize that violence occurred before (e.g., "It never happened before, it was only a few shoves").
- The spouse's responses may include feelings of "walking on eggshells," trying to reason, keeping the children quieter, keeping the house cleaner, staying home more often, etc.

Explosion

- The person is now out of control and unable to diffuse the build up of tension. Rage is evident-violence occurs.
- The spouse's responses may include appearing confused, trying to calm the spouse, fighting back, leaving the house, protecting oneself and/or calling someone for help.

Honeymoon (Bonding)

- The person generally returns to his/her usual self, characterized by a calm, loving period of time.
- Usually there is a strong denial of the problem and/or some sense of forgiveness by the spouse. It produces a temporary happiness and closeness. During the honeymoon phase, the spouses declare their sense of stability (e.g., "Everything is okay now;" "It won't happen again;" "It happened because of this and that," etc.).
- The name "honeymoon" comes to life when the spouse appears to take responsibility for his/her behavior and gives the spouse hope for chance, gives presents or flowers, goes out for romantic dinners, declares love, makes promises to get help and/or not to do it again, cries,

etc

The spouse's responses may include returning home, attempting to stop any legal actions or proceedings and setting up counseling appointments.

Key Points

- Without some sort of help the tension building and honeymoon phase may last for days or weeks and the severity varies.
- Typically, it affects how everyone in the family copes.
- Usually the persons involved continue to deny what is going on and/or try to show some semblance that everything is okay.

If you suspect abuse, the reporting point of contact is the military police at 533-2181. For further information you may contact you Family Advocacy Program Manager, Ms. Shirley M. Pettaway at 533-6878.

- · Pushed, slapped and/or grabbed or shoved
- · Moderate destruction of property (e.g., throwing objects at spouse such as books, ash trays, but not knives, etc.)
- · Pattern of one or more of the behaviors listed under Emotional Abuse

Emotional Abuse

Pattern of one or more of the following controlling behaviors which may be moderate to extreme: insults, intimidation, name calling, extreme jealousy, withholding affection, threats, "stalking," destruction of personal property, and/or imposing limits to phone, transportation, money, friends, etc.

Sexual Abuse

• The forcing of one spouse by the other spouse to engage in any sexual activity through the use of physical violence, intimidation, or the explicit or implicit threat of future violence.

Physical Abuse

- Child A type of maltreatment that refers to physical acts that caused or may have caused physical injury to the victim.
- Spouse Use of physical force that caused physical injury to the spouse.

There are many interpretations as to what domestic violence is. The violence must stop. Not only does domestic violence tear homes apart, it also tears at the entire military community. Prevention is the primary factor and each of us has to take an active role in this prevention process.

If you suspect abuse, the reporting point of contact is the military police at 533-2181. For further information you may contact your Family Advocacy Program Manager, Ms. Shirley M. Pettaway, at 533-6878.

Fish and Game Department adopt new regulation changes

By Frosty Taylor

Arizona Game and Fish Department

There are relatively few - but significant - Arizona fishing regulation changes for 2001 that anglers will want to note.

The Arizona Game and Fish Commission on Oct. 21 adopted the department's recommended 2001 Fishing Regulation changes as follows:

*Reducing the daily largemouth bass bag and possession limits at Alamo Lake;

*Modifying the allowable harvest limit at Arivaca Lake to catch-and-release only for largemouth bass;

*Allowing unlimited harvest of northern pike at various waters where they have been illegally introduced (including Parker Canyon Lake);

*Creating a daily bag limit for sunfish at lakes in the Urban Fishing Program;

At Alamo Lake anglers can currently have 12 largemouth bass in possession, no more than six of which may be within the slot limit (13 to 16 inches long). The 2001 reduction would allow only six bass to be possessed, no more than one of which can be within the slot limit.

A restrictive slot limit was instituted in 1989 at Alamo Lake to improve the population structure of the largemouth bass fishery. Alamo is a popular and heavily fished warm water lake west of Wickenburg. Fish surveys indicate that the bass population has been declining due to harvest. Public meetings and a statewide angler survey resulted in strong support for the regulation modification at Alamo.

Another 2001 change for anglers allowing no harvest of largemouth bass at Arivaca Lake until that water recovers from an extensive fish kill last year.

Consumption advisory

Arivaca has traditionally been a "blue ribbon" bass fishery featuring opportunities to catch larger than average bass. It has also been operated for more than a decade under a human healthy fish consumption advisory issued by the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality and the Arizona Department of Health. The advisory relates to the accumulation of methyl-mercury in the tissue of the top predator in the system - bass.

Because of this advisory, the public is advised not to consume largemouth bass from this reservoir.

Due to a combination of environmental factors (not related tomercury), Arivaca experienced a near total fish kill during the summer of 1999, with an estimated 80 to 90 percent of the fish being killed.

The fish kill was caused by a rapid summer bloom of algae, followed by a rapid die-off and subsequent removal of oxygen from the lake due to decomposing algae. Virtually all of the brood fish in the population were lost.

The Game and Fish Department has been working with angler groups to restock the lake once it returns to normal conditions. "To meet our goal of reestablishing a blue ribbon bass fishery, we believe the catch-and-release regulations for the nearterm will accelerate recovery of the population," said Fisheries Branch Chief Larry

Riley added that once the bass population is recovered and stabilized, the regulations can be changed back to allow haryest.

Bag limit removed

The commission also removed bag limits on northern pike from various waters in the state where this voracious fish has been illegally introduced.

Riley explained that northern pike have been collected at a number of lakes in Arizona during routine fish surveys. "Most of these pike collected at the various waters were the result of illegal introductions. There are two bodies of water in Arizona specifically managed for pike fishing opportunities - Stoneman Lake and Lake Mary."

Northern pike have been detected at Parker Canyon Lake, Rainbow Lake, Woodland Lake, Ashurst Lake, Coconino Lake, Alamo Lake, Santa Fe Lake and Marshall Lake. "The pike in these lakes are the result of illegal introductions or unwanted migration. Northern pike are very efficient predators that can have significant impacts on existing populations of sport fishes and reduce sport-fishing opportunities. This is of particular concern in lakes managed for trout," Riley explained.

Riley added that the department has been considering a wide range of alternatives for removal or management of pike recently detected in Parker Canyon Lake. "Our current proposal is to allow anglers unlimited harvest opportunities. Fish harvested would have to be killed immediately. This should discourage the illegal practice of transferring pike to other sites."

For the urban waters, the commission established a 10-fish bag limit for sunfish at lakes in the Urban Fishing Program and the Tempe Town Lake.

Safety policy on bicycle, jogging and running revisited

By Stan Williamson Scout Staff

More and more people on post are bicycling and jogging to improve their health and fitness. But at the same time, some of these individuals are placing themselves in harms way by not following basic safety rules spelled out in Fort Huachuca's Policy Letter on bicycling, jogging and running.

Anyone who rides a bicycle, runs or jogs on Fort Huachuca must comply with the following safety rules and guidelines. Bicyclist

Bicyclists must wear a bicycle helmet approved by the American National Standards Institute or Snell Foundation Safety Standards, when cycling on the installation. Bicycles ridden after sunset, before dawn or when visibility is below 500 feet will be equipped with a functioning white light in front and a red reflector not less than 2 square inches in back.

Bicyclists must give pedestrians the right of way when riding on sidewalks or in pedestrian areas. Bicyclists will give ample warning to pedestrians when approaching from the rear. Use of a horn or bell is required.

Bicyclists will not carry items or passengers that interfere with control or safe operation of the bicycle.

Joggers and runners

Joggers and individual runners will run on sidewalks or running tracks and paths, when available. They must run on the shoulder of the roads, to the extreme left side facing traffic, when sidewalks are not available. The following roads and areas not approved for jogging or running: Allison Road, Winrow Ave., Squire Ave., Hatfield Road, any road posted with a speed limit above 30 mph not designated as a routine PT route except with advance permission from Provost Marshal, and the Post Cemetery.

There have been complaints about some runners not wearing the required reflective material during periods of limited visibility. All runners must wear reflective bands, vest or strobe lights when visibility is below 500 feet. For example, overcast days, fog, rain, 30 minutes after sunset and 30 minutes before sunrise. The reflective band or vest must have at least 8 square inches of reflective surface on each side.

Individuals will not jog, run, or ride a bicycle in the center of traffic lanes. Nor will they be permitted to wear headphones or earphone while operating a bicycle, running or jogging.

Formations and unit runners

Soldiers participating in unit formations or runs will use road guards as required by TRADOC Regulation 385-2. Traffic and column guards will be equipped with reflective vests and cone flashlights during hours of reduced visibility.

Running formations are prohibited in the family housing areas. Unit personnel will be designated for straggler control, to assist individuals that become ill, injured or fall behind the main formation. Straggler control personnel will be equipped with reflective vests and other equipment the same as road guards.

Formations running on roads will only use approved routes at approved times of day. Approvals will be obtained from Military Police operations section. It should be noted that there are soldiers who must run after 3 p.m. daily because they are in a nighttime training cycle.

Responsibilities

The Garrison Commander may suspend bicycle riding privileges of personnel who are found in violation of this policy. Joggers and runners may face administrative discipline for violations of established policy. Company Commanders and equivalent civilian supervisors are responsible for ensuring all personnel receive instructions on this policy.

The Provost Marshal will assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this policy. Sponsors are responsible for ensuring that family members comply with this policy.
